Do I have that right? A. That's what I'm aware of, yes. Q. And Mr. Dondero has told you that there's 40 to $50 million in loans that he contends are the subject of an agreement? A. I don't know if he told me the 40 to 50 million, but I think I've seen that in various spreadsheets or numbers. That's the number I believe — at least that I recall that's in dispute. Q. So is it fair to say that the aggregate value of the loans that are the subject to the agreement that Mr. Dondero described for you concern loans that are 80 to 100 times larger than the largest loan you have been told has ever been forgiven by Highland? A. It is much — it is much large than any loan I'm familiar with, yes. Q. Did anybody ever tell you that	÷ 11'

And there's nothing in this paragraph that states or suggests that Highland has agreed to forgive in whole or in part any loan it has ever extended to Mr. Dondero, correct? A. That's correct. Q. Okay. So I would like you to note down, because it's hard to flip back – this is the dilemma of virtual depositions – but can you write down that Mr. Dondero owed Highland principal and interest of $14-and-a-half million at the end of 2017? A. Okay. Q. And the next paragraph relates to Mr. Okada. There's nothing in there that states or suggests that Highland has agreed to forgive in

MR. AIGEN: Objection, form. A. Of course I would question it, and I often question clients about decisions that I wished they hadn't made, but yeah, certainly, I would question it. Q. And what if you knew in the hypothetical that the individual was represented by multiple law firms, would that cause you to question it even further? MR. AIGEN: Objection, form. A. No, I would expect in a situation like that, he would be represented by a bunch of law firms, but I would certainly question that. It seems convenient. That doesn't mean it's not true, though, which I often find clients that make very unfortunate decisions, so – but I would certainly question it. Q. Okay. Just a few more questions	Page 18

Okay. And do you see the total is approximately $23.7 million? A. Yes. Q. If you exclude the first three payments that were made in 2017 and '18, they total about $3.3 million or $3.4 million. Is my math roughly correct? A. Yes, it looks that way. Q. Okay. So is it fair then to just — if you deduct that from the total, to say that Mr. Dondero made principal and interest payments against those two notes in 2019 in excess of $20 million? A. That looks correct, yes. Q. Okay. Now, do you see the last payment was made, if you look at the Row 16, on December 23, 2019?

I'm sorry, was she your only assistant that would have maybe facilitated logistically something like you just described? A. You know, she was out on matemity leave at some point. I don't – I don't recall those dates where she was out for matemity leave. There was – there were folks backing her up. I don't recall specifically who those – who those, you know, administrative assistants were, and I don't recall specifically if she was out during this time on matemity leave. I do know that that she was out for a period of time, or who knows, or she could have been on vacation that day or, you know, I
Q. Again, the only thing you remember, sitting here today, was Mr. Dondero said, get the money from Highland, and that is it, that is all you remember? MR. MORRIS: Objection to the form of the question. A. I testified to that several times. This was over two years ago. A lot has happened. That is all I recall. Q. And help me here. I'm not very technologically astute. When you – and I – I recognize that you do it rarely, but when you sign a document electronically, do you believe that there is an electronic record of you having authorized or signed a document electronically? MR. MORRIS: Objection to the form of the question. A. I – I don't know the tech answer to that, but, you know, since I don't have – I don't ever attach my signature block electronically, my assistant would have done	 multiple times over COVID, she would attach my signature block and then email it out to whatever party. Q. What was your assistant's name in May 2019? A. It was Naomi Chisum. Q. Is she the only one? I'm sorry, was she your only assistant that would have maybe facilitated logistically something like you just described? A. You know, she was out on maternity leave at some point. I don't – I don't recall those dates where she was out for maternity leave. There was – there were folks backing her up. Mr. Waterhouse, I had asked you earlier about contracts between HCMFA and the debtor, and now I'm going to talk about contracts between the debtor and NexPoint Advisors. Okay? A. Okay. Q. Now, were there contracts similar to the ones with HCMFA that NexPoint had in the nature of employee reimbursement and shared services? A. Yes, they – NexPoint Advisors and Highland Capital Management Fund Advisors had

And so the reason you don't recall whether or not there was a payment in January of 2021 is because you just don't remember whether there was such a loan at all? MR. MORRIS: Objection to the form of the question. A. I don't remember. There is – there is so many notes, and I mean, demands, and I don't – I don't remember. It's a lot to keep track in your head. Q. I understand, and – and I hear your frustration when you have explained that the debtor has your documents and you don't, and so I fully appreciate it, and this is no knock on you. It's a knock on somebody else on this call. MR. MORRIS: I move to strike. Any Charge for Imprinted Checks Includes State Sales Tax Computed at the Current Rate, When Applicable Notice: The Annual Percentage Rate and Daily Periodic Rate may vary.

EXPLANATION OF BALANCE ON WHICH THE INTEREST CHARGE IS COMPUTED

We figure the interest charge on your account by applying the periodic rate to the "daily balance" of your account for each day in the billing cycle. To get the "daily balance" we take the beginning balance of your account each day, add any new advances/fees, and subtract any unpaid interest or other finance charges and any payments or credits. This gives us the daily balance.
